UNFIT CENSUS ENUMERATORS WEED-ED OUT OF THE CUBAN SERVICE.

Yellow Fever Situation in Havana Is Not Disquieting-Maj. Gen. Wood's Report on Eastern Affairs.

HAVANA, Nov. 1 .- Victor H. Olmstead, Cincinnati. Annie Oakley will be present assistant director of census, returned, today, to Hayana, after inspecting all the provinces of the island, in accordance with instructions from Washington. He immediately visited General Ludlow, military Governor, and informed him he had instituted an investigation into all the cases of enumerators, mentioned in General Ludlow's letter to Governor General Brooke, as being unfit, and that most of these persons had been discharged. General Ludlow says no blame attaches to the appointing officer, because the latter relied upon the sponsors of the applicants, the indorsements coming from people supposed to be reliable. He considers it unfortunate that men of standing should lend their names. merely out of sympathy, to applicants notoriously unworthy, as certainly was done in numerous instances.

·The Havana newspapers, generally, complain regarding the different kinds of coinage in use in the island. The local hotels and many business houses now refuse to accept any currency except American. Nearly all the hotels and boarding houses in Havana to-day raised prices 20 per cent. which means, in most cases, an increase of 40 per cent, on the prices that prevailed last year. Gen. B. F. Tracy on the Stand Before the Mazet Committee.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 .- The examination of Gen. B. F. Tracy before the Assembly committee on the conduct of the municipal departments of New York was continued today. He was questioned regarding the services he had performed for corporations without bringing out any facts of material interest. At the close of the examination General Tracy said: "If Mr. Croker said, and I can hardly believe he said it, that my firm sent large sums of money to Albany to influence legislation, it is a very, very grave falsehood."

A. J. KELLY, bruised by falling bricks. J. C. TAYLOR, bruised by falling bricks The cause of the collapse is unknown some claiming that there was an explosion in the store of S. F. Leonard, dealer in seeds, others saying that the walls fell without apparent cause. The generally accepted theory is that there was an explosion of dust in the seed store.

The crash came with less than one minute's warning, and Mr. Leonard, who noticed the walls of the building shift slightly, called to his employes to run for their lives, and without a second's delay they all rushed for the street, the last of them getting through the doorway just in time.

After reaching the street the women employes of Leonard rushed into the home of Mrs. Whelan, however, noticed that the house was in danger and refused to allow the women to remain. Less than half a minute later the east wall fell, and the house. beneath the ruins.

Adjoining Mrs. Whelan's house and next to the seed building stood a two-story frame structure occupied by Kelso Brothers, dealers in paper. A number of young girls and two men were at work at the time, and a panic followed in their efforts to escape. The two men smashed the windows and in that way rescued the girls.

The following are the losses: Simeon F. Leonard, wholesale seeds, loss $100,000, insurance $80,000; C. T. Bowal, owner of the building, $50,000, insurance full; Nicholas Beck, $8,000; New England mills, F. H. Hanson proprietor, $25,000; Nelson Brothers, paper stock, $5,000; J. C. Meyer, pickles and vinegar, $10,000; Agnes Whelan, owner of the building, $5,000; W. B. Adams, saloon and boarding house, $1,000.

At 10 p. m. the firemen working in the ruins found the body of a man under the debris of the office of the New England milis. It was too badly burned to admit had received absolutely no intimation from of identification, but from the position in which it was found it is supposed to be that of Mr. Hanson, proprietor of the mills. Former Governor Alvin Saunders, a Noted Figure in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 1.-Ex-Governor Alvin Saunders died this morning. He was one of the earliest settlers in the State. and during his entire career was a prominent figure in its political and business life His daughter is the wife of Major Russell Harrison, son of the ex-President. The infirmities of old age was the cause of the ex-Governor's death.

Alvin Saunders was born in Fleming county, Kentucky, in 1817. His early life was spent on the farm. In 1836 he went to Iowa, then known as a part of the Territory of Wisconsin. He became a clerk at Mount Pleasant and later was accepted as a partner in the firm. He was the first postmaster of the town. Meanwhile, despite his mixed Virginia and Kentucky origin, 1869, and during the presidential campaign and visited all portions of the State where Lincoln. DEWEY'S FIANCEE AMBITIOU She May Try to Land the Admiral in the White House.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 .- The Times-Herald's Washington correspondent says: "The general comment in Washington anent the engagement of Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Mil dred Hazen is that it is a brilliant match on both sides. As wife of the admiral of Mrs. Agnes Whelan, No. 135 Lake street. | the navy Mrs. Dewey will have an exalted rank in the official society of the capital, with the right to precede all but the Cabinet and the diplomatic corps at ceremonial functions. But Mrs. Dewey will not care together with the adjoining one, was buried for that. Her place in society as an intellectual, even brillfant, woman is already well fixed, and not even this happy marriage is likely to add anything to her popularity. Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Hazen threaten to have a wedding of the traditionally 'quiet' order at the home of Mrs. Mc-Lean, the bride's mother, but if they do they will most grievously offend and disappoint all the fashionables. If we can't have a grand wedding at St. John's, with acres of admirals and captains, resplendent in gold lace and uniforms and with swords dangling at their sides, what is the use in having a match between the 'greatest contemporaneous hero' and 'the most brilliant woman in Washington?' At any rate wherever the wedding is the admiral will wear his uniform and the sword that was presented him by the Congress of the United States; and cards to that wedding will be as eagerly sought as seats by the great white throne Dewey-Hazen engagement is the encouragement which it has given to the misguided

"One of the picturesque phases of the enthusiasts who are determined to force the admiral to run for the presidency on Democratic ticket. They had given him up. The admiral's repeated and emphatic dec larations that all the king's money and all the king's men could not drive him into the political field had led them reluctantly to abandon their crusade. But now they are pricking up their ears again. Here is their argument: Mrs. Hazen, who is to be Mrs. Dewey, is a sister of John R. McLean, of Ohio. Mr. Mclean is ambitious. Mrs. Hazen is ambitious for him and for herself. She would like to be mistress of the White House. The admiral is very much in love with her. He acts like a mark, 'the honeymoon will bring out a new presidential candidate for the Democrats. one who will sweep the country.' All of which is very pretty, and very silly." FEAR VENGEANCE. Witnesses Against Kentucky Feudists

BIOGRAPH DAY AT NEW DORP. This was biograph day at Sharkey's New Dorp training quarters. The moving picture people went down to take a number of views of the big sailor training and they occupied his time for a considerable period. It was a day of easy work for the Irishman. He took just enough exercise to keep his wind apparatus in working order and to insure his muscles remaining limber and supple. He came running in afterward, perspiring freely, but breathing without the slightest perceptible Sharkey's physician went down to see him at noon. He is Dr. Frank E. Butler, formerly of Bellevue Hospital, New York. Dr. Butler has carefully noticed Sharkey during his whole ten weeks in training. He went down to-day to make a last examination of his charge and see for the fighter's managers if their man was in the condition they expected of him. Dr. Butler, after remaining with Sharkey all day, said Sharkey is in perfect condition. I have watched him ever since he began work and I feel satisfied that he has developed to its fullest possibilities each muscle in his body His blood, his digestion, all his internal organs are in perfect condition. Methodist Women Arrange Plans for Raising Money.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1 .- Plans for the twentieth century thanks offering were completed to-day by the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. The money will be raised by December, 1901, by the branches of the society in proportions based upon their receipts for the last year exclusive of bequests. Announcement was made of a gift of $5,000 for the establishment of a women's hospital at Chung-King, in China. The money goes through the Cincinnati branch. The donor wishes to be unknown. The next annual meeting of the society will be held at Worcester, Mass., in 1909. The missionaries at next year's meeting anticipate the formation of a mutual aid association. The afternoon and evening were devoted to the talks by returned missionaries.

SCORED HIS 900 POINTS WHILE SCHAEFER WAS MAKING 757.

Latter's Best Runs Were 41 and 39 While the Winner's High Mark During the Match Was 37.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.-Slosson won th professional billiard match to-night at Madison-square garden, Schaefer being beaten by 900 points to 757. Slosson to-night again outplayed Schaefer by 300 points against 262 and he therefore increased the advantage which he held when play began by thirty-eight caroms, and finally ended with a lead of 143. Slosson's average for the full 900 points was a shade over four and one-half and his best run of the match thirty-seven. Schaefer exceeded this run twice, making forty-one and thirty-nine in to-night's play. His average, however, was a little under four for the full game. Tonight's attendance was 400. At first it looked as if Schaefer was going to make a close finish of it. He picked speculation and prophecy as to victory and up three, twelve and eight after his first miss and then got the ivories rolling smoothly for him and rapidly clicked off a big run. He missed his fortieth carom. As it was, however, he had gathered in what was then the best run of the match. In the meantime Slosson's deadly angles were helping him steadily and misses were scarce. In five successive innings he gathered in ten, three, fifteen, nine and eleven, but then sagged back once more. Jake ran into a calm, too, and it seemed impossible for him to get the balls together for a big run. He scored eleven ciphers in twen-ty-three innings and his admirers looked

> At the thirtieth inning the student had increased his lead to 155 points and Schaefer was growing desperate. careless before, but now he settled down with a determined expression on his face and soon had the balls rolling favorably again. Only delicate caroms at a time could he get, but each time his drive for a new gather and position was successful and the ivories were together first in one corner and then another. The break added up readily and a generous round of applause greeted the expert when he passed the high-run mark of thirty-nine, but only two caroms later he carelessly fouled the white ball with his cue after he had counted on a short draw. The total, fortyone, however, was the biggest of the match. From this point to the end the play was monotonous. There were dcuble-figure runs and little brilliant play. Both men missed repeatedly, but Slosson kept steadily at it until he went out in his one-hunderd-and-ninety-seventh inning. THREE MEN AND A WOMAN DROWNED IN ALASKAN WATERS.

They Were in Their Own Steamer on the Yukon-A Big Clean-Up from Cape Nome-Typhoid Fever.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 1 .- The treasure ship Roanoke, which reached here in sixteen days from St. Michael's and eleven days from Cape Nome this morning, brings the first story of the death of several New Yorkers, members of the Alaska Prospecting Company. The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kuhner, Oscar Becker and an unknown man. Becker's body was washed on the beach of St. Michael's island, and later an overturned steamer and a scow loaded with machinery, which represented the assets of the company, were found. Two survivors are John Becker and Theodore Diedrick. The news was brought to St. Michael's by a native, who claims to have seen the steamer overturning during a severe windstorm which prevailed about Sept. 15. The government lauch Nordyca was detailed to the scene of the accident. She returned two days later with the scow and Oscar Becker's body. Owing to the high surf the crew of the Nordyca could not make an examination of the overturned steamer, which no doubt contained the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Kuhner and that of the unknown

Upon Becker's body were found papers, but owing to their water-soaked condition they were not legible. The party was made up in New York city in the spring of 1898. The Beckers, it is stated, were people in comfortable circumstances. Kuhner, who was a jeweler, had married a Miss Becker. The family formed a party and purchased a small iron steamer and named it the Jennie K. It was shipped to Seattle last June, and from there sent to St. Michael on a steamer. From there the party sailed for Hamilton Station. Severe storms were encountered and other difficulties caused considerable dissension. One day, it is said, Kuhner threatened to shoot Oscar Becker and Diedrick. John Becker left the party on Jan. 1. Later Oscar Becker and Diedrick deserted and took up new quarters. Oscar Becker joined the original party again, but John and Diedrick secured other positions. Diedrick sald to an Associated Press reporter at St. Michael's, who interviewed him on Oct. 5: "The last I saw of the party was on Sept. 3. Then the steamer was anchored in midstream between Kucklik and Hamilton, on the Yukon. were probably on their way to Cape Nome. Mrs. Becker, the mother, lived at the par-ty's former home, in New York city." Owing to the lateness of the season, it will be

Owing to the alleged impurity of the water at Nome typhoid fever was quite general at the time the Roanoke left and twelve deaths had occurred. James H. Girling, a well-known English mining expert, who went north last June for the Anglo-Alaskan syndicate, died Oct, 22 on board the Roanoke, at Dutch Harbor. Typhold fever caused his death. At Unalaska the body was prepared for burial at the Bes-sie Lee Home and later interred. He had spent about twenty years in South Africa, but considered London his home.
